DESIGNERS OF AMERICA'S FINEST YACHTS

They are GENTLEMEN'S CLOTHES

THAT is said without a thought of snobbishness. It is merely the simplest way to express the distinction of LANGROCK clothes.

Andover men accustomed to being well dressed are at ease in them, for good taste in Langrock Clothes does not stop at correct lines and sightly fabrics. It goes clear through to a finer foundation of inward excellence.

Imported fabrics loomed in exclusive designs and patterns, hand-tailoring and important details of finish and workmanship mark the lessons learned in catering for over 32 years to university men and alumni.

Junior Year

THE fall of 1926 found a new group of Preps on Andover Hill who were filled with fears and misgivings. The newness and strangeness of our surroundings caused us to be awestruck and dumbfounded, but there was a certain amount of hope and anticipation about us. The "old men" acted very superior toward us, causing our existences to be very uncomfortable for a week, but these terrors came to an end with the Prep Parade, after which we were allowed to go our ways in peace.

The fall term progressed quite rapidly, being punctuated with two ratings which proved fatal for some of us. The light but fast football team went through a rather mediocre preliminary season, but atoned for its previous losses by an overwhelming victory over Exeter, 20 to 3. The soccer team extended its run of undefeated seasons to three, beating Worcester 3 to 2 in the letter game. The Christmas vacation brought to a close a very successful fall term—our first on The Hill.

Returning to school for the winter term, we found a new era opening out to us. We were no longer considered "preps", and our new privileges gave us a certain air of importance. The hockey team, handicapped by a lack of ice throughout the season, was defeated by Exeter in a close game, 2 to 1. Rugg was the first man of our class to win a letter, participating in this game. Late in the term came the basketball game and swimming meet with the Red and Gray, Andover winning the former by the record score of 31 to 19, but losing in the latter 35 to 27. Brainard represented 1930 in this meet. The wrestling team had a fine season, losing only one meet, but the relay team lost to Exeter in the B. A. A. games in a close race.

After a short Easter vacation, we entered upon the pleasantest term of the three and turned our attention to baseball, track, and tennis. The baseball team, after a fairly successful season, lost to Exeter 11 to 5 in a good game. By defeating Exeter 89 to 37 in track we avenged this defeat and continued our revenge with a 5 to 4 tennis victory.

The Musical clubs and publications were all admirably run, and the dramatic club presented two good plays. The prize speaking contests and Philo also enjoyed marked successes. 1930 was represented in all branches of school life as well as a junior class could be expected to be at that stage of its development.

Less dazed towards the end of the year, we began to anticipate with pleasure our coming three years. We all saw possibilities for ourselves in the life of the school, and determined to make something of ourselves. We had found our niches in the school, but were ambitious to improve them.

W. G. Butler

Lower Middle Year

AT the beginning of our Lower Middle Year, there was a natural inclination to expound our newly found freedom and supposedly superior knowledge on the unfortunate "preps", who suffered accordingly. However this new phase of school life soon grew a bit boring and we turned to other interests which took up the large part of the fall term. Both club and varsity football were given full sway and despite a rather unsuccessful season the varsity team held Exeter to a 0 to 0 tie, upsetting all the paper predictions. The soccer team, holding to its previous record, went through an undefeated season, having only one goal scored against it throughout the entire schedule.

After the Christmas recess was over, we once more settled down into the daily routine of work, but this term was not so tiresome, in that there were far more diversions in all types of sport, education, and mental recreation. As far as athletics went, Exeter beat us handily in all the contests participated in by the two schools with one exception, that of the relay race in Boston. 1930 was represented by Kimball in swimming and Rugg in hockey. Throughout the term, the various non-athletic activities were taking place, thus giving everyone an opportunity to do something that he was interested in or for which he had some ability.

With the coming of the spring term, we found studying more difficult, due in part to the quaint New England weather which as usual had more than its share of fluctuation, and also to the bright prospects of the coming Sesquicentennial celebration, toward which we were all looking with the keenest anticipation. The track meet with Exeter was held at the time of the celebration, and this we managed to win by the overwhelming score of 83 1-2 to 42 1-2. Arthur Jackson was the only member of our class who succeeded in getting his "A". Baseball, on the other hand was a little more disappointing, for we lost to Exeter by the close margin of only one run. Walter Kimball, our sole representative, was elected captain of next year's team.

As the year finally drew to a close, we began to appreciate more what Andover really means to every one who has the opportunity of being connected with it, and by this time we had partially found our niches in school life. We had made friends who were of priceless value, and it was at this period that we began to broaden mentally as well as physically and commenced to look at the world in general with a truer and more vivid perspective.

Upper Middle Year

THE dignity which made its debut in our lives during our second year comes more to the fore now that we tread the third rung of our preparatory ladder.

This, however, is an intermediary step. We can identify it with no other, for our first two years seemed to run along smoothly upon one another, while now we have jumped to the plane of Upper Classmen. Yet we still are a long stride from the exalted Senior positions. We sense our superiority to the two classes through whose clutches we have just slipped, and we feel the lack of power which veils our dream of "next year".

When our minds become readjusted to school routine after a long vacation, we turn with the passing of the prep novelty to football, the greatest of amateur American sports. Week after week we watch a mediocre Blue team fall to defeat before freshmen and academy opponents. Towards the end of the season the stands backing Andover have few more occupants than those opposite. One November day after the school has been instilled with the soul-pervading thrill of anticipation which precedes the major contests with Exeter, that Andover eleven, fired with the powers that be, sends a champion Exeter band to a muddy defeat, 18 to 0. A diminutive substitute end, diving from the skies, blocks three Red kicks for as many touchdowns. To sear our superiority more deeply on the minds of our New Hampshire rivals, Jim Riley's soccer men beat Exeter's newly born aggregation 1-0. We turn to Christmas with triumph in our hearts and ever-increasing love for the wonderful place which can cast its spell over six hundred boys of all kinds and hold us all in a firm grip of loyalty.

Of course we are sorry to return again in January, but after environment claims us, we enter heart and soul into the perpetuation of our athletic prowess. Our basketball, hockey, swimming, and relay teams labor through the preliminary season with no outstanding events pro or con. A dreary New England winter is broken up only once, and that very agreeably by the advent of a tide of femininity, aspiring to beautify the gymnasium in the time-honored function of the Winter Prom. We receive a telling blow when our ice fighters must give way to the red menace, but we are again inflated with a terrible pride when our relay team trims our opponents handily. Yet now our hopes for further winter victories are frustrated by an epidemic of measles, which descends on both schools, allowing no inter-relations. And so homewards.

Spring, the poetic rhapsody and most delightful of the school seasons, greets us with soft hands and we are irrevocably, it seems, stricken with the well-known accompanying disease. Our two remaining major sports, however, beckon, and we soon throw ourselves into making them a success. As we approach the threshold of June, we begin to see more clearly our fourth year horizon and to appreciate our coming responsibilities as Seniors. We do not, however, wish to burden ourselves with responsibilities; so we turn to watch our track team defeat Exeter. We now feel that celebration parades are the usual thing. But we are set back by a baseball trouncing. We must allow the Red and Gray a bit of consolation, we feel, to keep them interested. Suddenly, the realization strikes us that summer (magic word) is upon us. An alarming thought! and after all so unexpected. We leave gladly but happy to have another year before us.

Leeds Mitchell, Jr.

Senior Year

ALAS, the advent of a new year, our last, when we, the newly-ascended Seniors, look with eager eyes for that day in June when we shall graduate, shall leave the Old Hill to return only as arrogant Alumni. But in the interim we are concerned with more immediate issues. How to handle the Preps, how to conduct ourselves in such a way that we shall merit our more elevated station, but at the same time in such a way that we shall not appear as pompous and disdainful as those to whose places we succeed.

The ever-pressing prep situation must be met, and much to the astonishment and disgust of all the Parade is dropped for a vaudeville show in which a few persecuted neophytes are forced to perform, to bear the brunt of the entire prep affliction. But these Preps have been too easily treated.

With this thought in mind we out of necessity turn our minds to football, where Shep, Andover's finest, handicapped with but a few returning regulars and a dearth of new material, must by all means uphold his enviable record of the past and crush our red and gray foemen so that we may to some degree be appeased in our vicious designs upon these insolent Preps. An Andover team will always fight, but something more than fight is necessary to smother the charging crimson line. Each game produces some new thrill, gives us more confidence in facing our ancient rival. On November 9 at the dedication of Exeter's new field a diminutive Andover team went down to defeat, nobly fighting to the end, with the breaks against her and against overpowering odds. The 14 to 7 score indicates that it was no overwhelming Exeter triumph. The following Saturday, however, Jim Ryley's soccer team vindicated our defeat with a 2 to 1 victory, far more impressive than the score would pronounce. All interests now point to Christmas when we Seniors shall receive a respite from the arduous task of governing the school, such as is our supreme authority and dignity.

Not until we return in January does the bleak, windy winter, which only New England can foster, begin to bear down on us. Each day brings something new in the way of climate. Yes, we would love the Hill but for the unbearable winters. Each day draws us deeper into the slough of despond. Exeter, at the apex of her athletic history, crushes our undefeated hockey team at the Arena 4 to 0. Again, in a record-breaking performance she sweeps to a victory over our relay team in the B. A. A.'s. No sooner have we recovered than her powerful basketball team bears us down in a 25 to 22 defeat. Her swimming team, as a result of some technical errors on the part of our own men, plows through to victory, and Exeter now reigns supreme, while Andover, stung by defeat, eagerly awaits the spring, when she may avenge herself on track, diamond, and court.

After a brief, but keenly appreciated, Easter vacation we enter upon the last epoch of our careers at Old P. A. No more do we long to look upon Andover as a spot of cherished memories. We have become too absorbed in its age-old traditions and customs; it has come to play too dear a part in our lives, and now, with the approach of June, we are reluctant to pass on, to leave those scenes with which we have so long been associated. But it is inevitable, and we, with sadness in our hearts, leave the Hill to those who shall succeed us and move on, ever striving to perpetuate the glory of Phillips Academy and bring nothing but honor to her name—forsan et haec olim meminisse iuvabit.

OFFICERS MUSICAL CLUBS

THE first Glee Club at Andover appeared in 1873, but it failed in the next year. Then, in 1877, another club was formed, but on account of rivalry between it and the Phillips Glee Club, both were unsuccessful. Interest failed, and it was not until 1878 that a permanent and successful group was founded, which has lasted ever since.

Nine years later a Banjo Club made its appearance and in connection a Mandolin Club was started in 1892. For a short time these became independent, and five years later a constitution was adopted for a Combined Musical Clubs, including all three groups in one organization.

In recent years, two changes have occurred. First, the Banjo and Mandolin Clubs merged, until in 1929 they disbanded because of the growing lack of interest in their activities. Secondly, an orchestra was instituted, and has grown in popularity each succeeding year.

The annual concert at Rogers Hall, which was held in January, was a great success, and there is a possibility that a return dance will be held during the Spring Term.

In April, the clubs journeyed to Exeter, where the combined concert was given before a large audience. Later in the year the Glee Club will sing with Bradford Academy, assisted by an orchestra from Boston. This concert will be held at Andover, but it is probable that there will be a return dance at Bradford.

All in all, the past year has been the most successful in the history of the Clubs, with more trips being made than ever before.

ORCHESTRA

SINCE the Dramatic Club was instituted here, many men have directed it. Mr. Phillips, Mr. Stott, and Mr. H. C. Stearns have all filled the position, and for the last few years Mr. Heely has been its director. Mr. Wilkinson capably took his place this year.

Last year at commencement, The Dictator by Richard Harding Davis was given. This was a comedy with a South American setting, involving the flight of a supposed murderer, who becomes the President of the Republic. D. K. Morris had the main male part and C. P. Williamson played opposite him in the leading female role.

The usual winter performance was given this year in the Auditorium on March 15, before a large and appreciative audience. The play presented was Tons of Money by Will Evans and Valentine. This comedy centered around the efforts of Aubrey to get his inheritance without the knowledge of his creditors, and this caused endless amusing complications. The leading role was played well by G. S. Hayes, while S. G. Wolf, W. W. Miller, and C. P. Williamson had the leading female parts.

PHILLO, founded in 1825 by Horatio Hackett and three friends, is responsible for the establishment of nearly all the literary organizations that Andover has ever had. In the beginning, the Philomathean Society was regarded as a social fraternity, a rival to the secret societies, but in a very few years this part of its activity was discontinued, and the members wholeheartedly undertook to advance oration and literary work in the school.

In 1854 the Philo-Mirror, then just the minutes of the meetings, was founded, and soon afterward the first Pot Pourri or Masque as it was then called, was established by the Society. The two publications became so popular that Philo could not handle both and was forced to let the school edit them.

In previous years questions that had interested the whole school had been fought out in the old Society Hall, and sometimes the discussions waxed so furious that the decisions were carried over to the next meeting.

However, at the beginning of the nineties Philo's debates suffered a lapse in popularity. A few secessionists, thinking that competition was needed, formed a rival debating club called Forum, and between the two organizations many points were furiously fought out. Philo at that time went even further than debating, for they gave short plays and enacted mock trials and faculty meetings. So much interest was created at these that the first Dramatic Club was founded by the Society.

This year Philo seems to be getting along very well. Much credit should be given to Guy Hayes, the president, and Mr. Wilkinson, the faculty adviser, for the improvement, because of the interesting list of debates arranged. Some of the subjects were "Should Athletes on 'Pro' Be Allowed to Participate in Varsity Sports", "Do We Want Longer Examination Periods", and "Should Andover Have a Five Year Course?" All of these were very well attended by the student body because they had such direct bearing on the activities of every fellow in school.

For the first time in many years a debate was arranged with Exeter, and it is hoped that this is going to be the beginning of another line of competition with our sister school.

THE past year was one of the most successful that the Society of Inquiry, the student religious organization, has ever had. Founded in 1833, it was, and has continued to be, one of Phillips Academy's most important student organizations. During the past year the society was unusually fortunate in having Mr. Trowbridge as faculty adviser, and it was largely through him that such fine speakers were secured for Sunday evening meetings throughout the winter and early spring.

In September the society held its annual reception for new men. Activities did not actually start, however, until the winter term when Andover delegations were sent to Groton and Brown. The former marked the first of a series of contacts with Groton which have proven extremely worthwhile. Yale, Exeter, Groton, and Williams also sent delegations to Andover.

An exceptionally fine group of speakers was included in the year's program. Dr. Allyn K. Foster returned and was given an enthusiastic reception. Richard Hill, a negro student at the Harvard Theological Seminary, gave one of the year's most interesting talks. Prof. Bruce Curry of Union Theological Seminary gave a series of lectures on students' religious problems. Other speakers were: Dr. A. Herbert Gray, Otis Rice, A. L. Kinsolving, Arthur Rugh, Erdman Harris, and Rabbi Schwartz.

The society also conducted an unusually successful charities drive and took charge of the sale of Red Cross Tuberculosis Seals at Christmas.

IN Andover, there is a student organization of Seniors, of which one hears very little. This is the Open Door Committee. The duty of these men is to meet visiting teams, to see that they are properly transported, fed, shown locker accommodations, and to generally be hosts to Andover's athletic guests.

Every year, in the spring term, two Upper Middlers are elected to the Committee, and these form the nucleus of the next year's committee. It is during the winter and spring terms that the group does the larger part of its work. Mr. Roth, who has been faculty adviser for seven years, has given much of his time to the success of the Committee, and is to be congratulated on his excellent results.

Toc H

DUE to the energy and enthusiasm of a few students in the Academy, an active group of Toc H was established, an international movement steadily growing in this country, dedicated to service among men, to remove hate, and to work for the Kingdom of God.

The group quietly went to work, and soon had under way several "jobs" assigned to individual members, on which jobs they have been working faithfully throughout the winter.

Their "jobs" have had to do with work among the local scout troops, helping with boys at the Andover Guild, and the organizing, directing, and producing of a play by the Guild Players in the Town Hall, produced under the direction of William S. Gordon, secretary of the group.

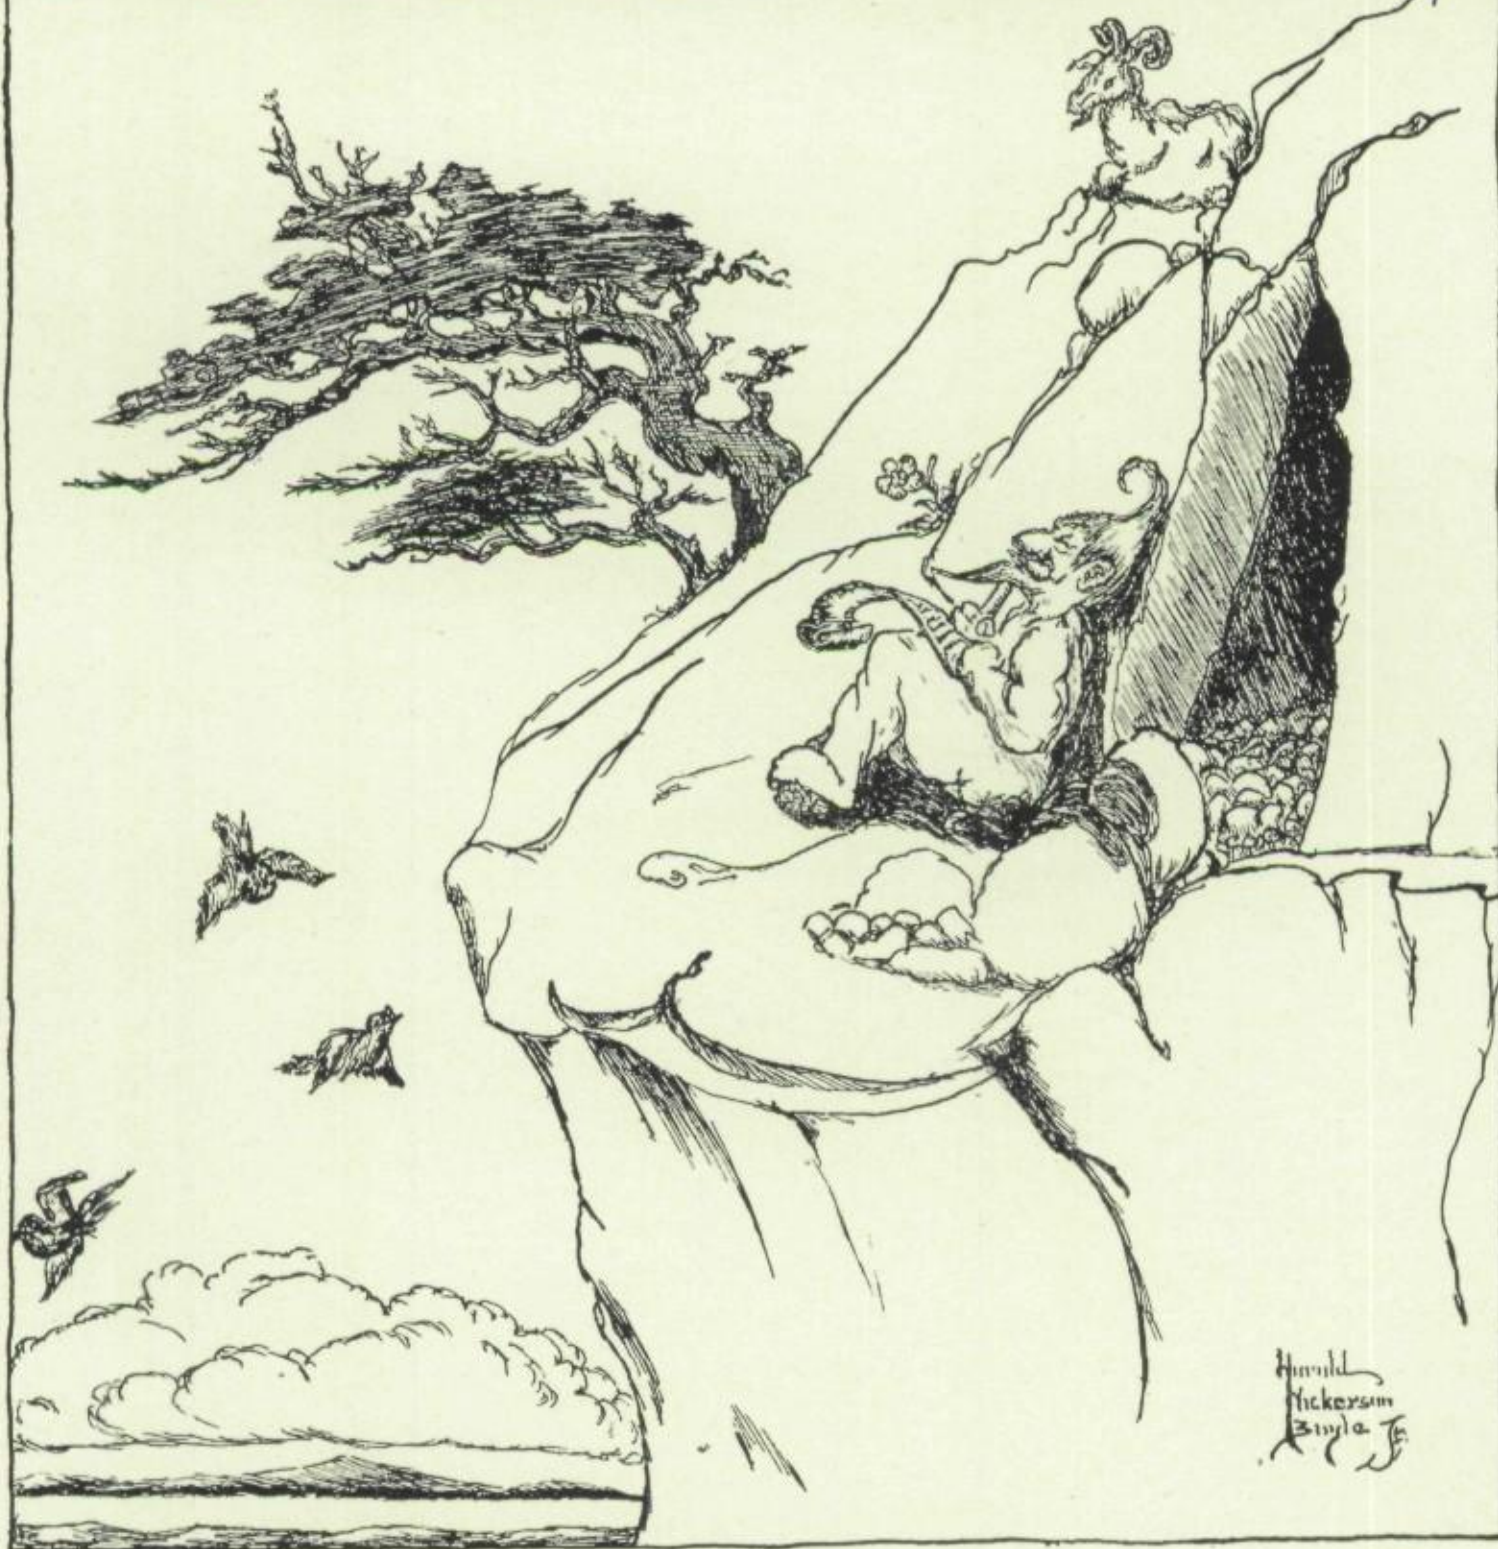

Three of the members, McLanahan, Dunlop, and Gordon, tutored throughout the winter a young Armenian boy injured in an accident and prevented from attending school. He will be able next autumn to enter school with his class, and with increased skill in writing and speaking English.

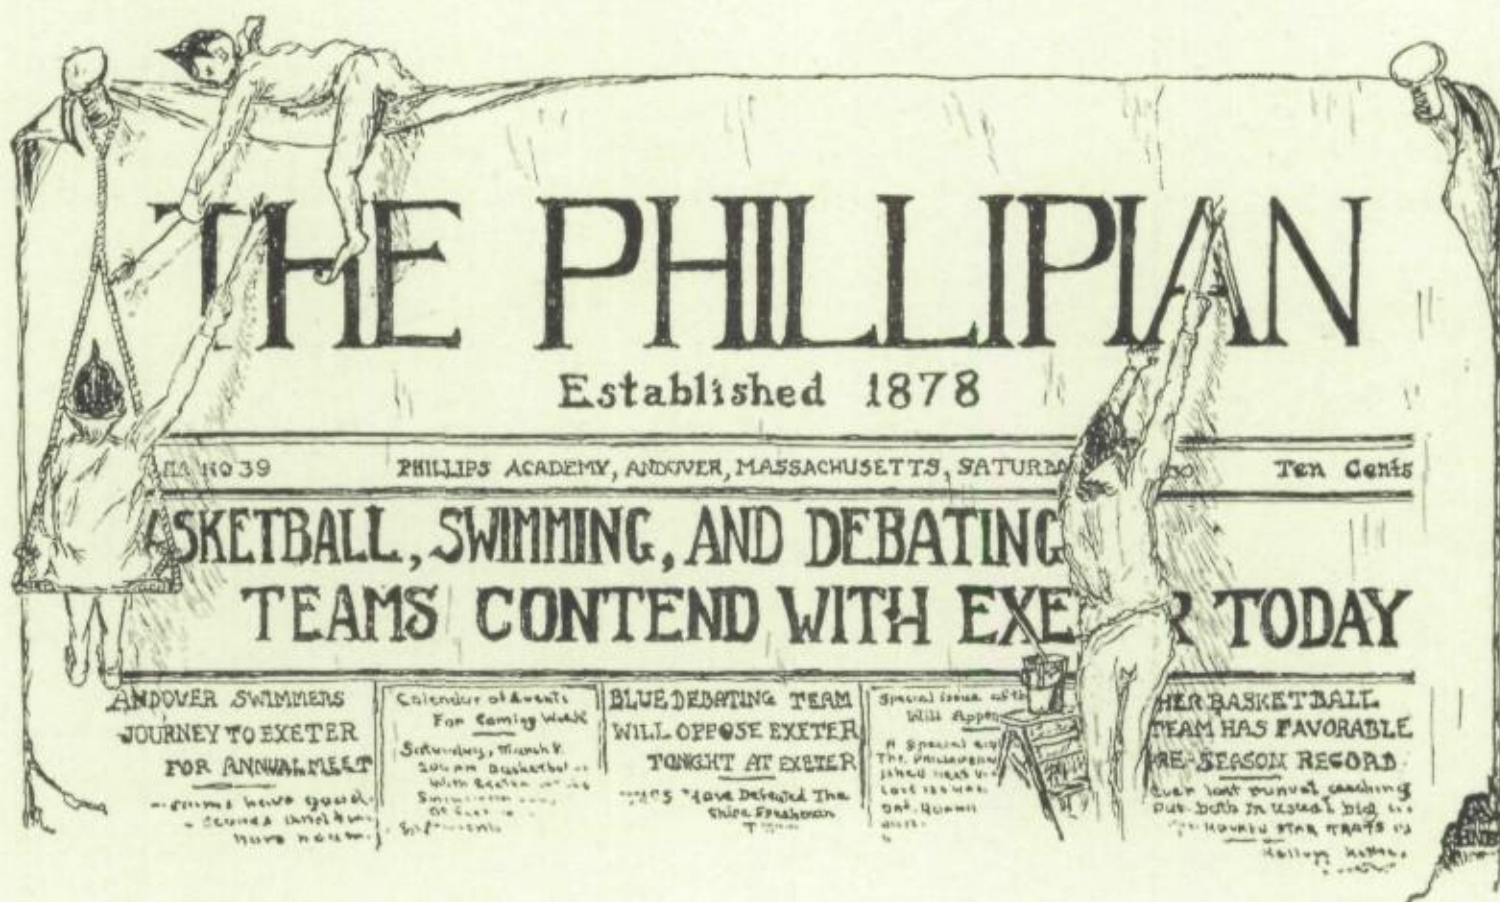

Christmas dinners for the poor of Andover, two old clothes drives, and the delivering of several loads of wood from the tearing down of the old Library to poor families of the township constituted definite service jobs. The infirmary was kept supplied with magazines throughout the winter by Gregg, other members contributing.

Twice during the year, members of Toc H in Boston visited the Andover Group, in the fall to attend a dinner, and later in April, when two members of the Andover group were formally initiated into Toc H. Gordon and Mr. Trowbridge.

Officers were elected for next year: President and Jobmaster, T. Lewis; Secretary-Treasurer, D. M. Dunlop; Faculty advisor and Padre, Mr. Trowbridge.

PHILLIPIAN BOARD

THERE has been a noticeable decline in The Phillipian in recent years, and it was a great relief for all of us to notice the remarkable improvement in the paper under the efficient board in charge this year. More appreciation was shown to it than usual by its severest critic, the student body. The majority of the credit for this is due to Richard J. Walsh, the Editor-in-chief, who proved himself a tireless worker and by his editorials, his innovations, and his efficiency gave The Phillipian new standards. It must not be forgotten, however that he was assisted by Amory H. Bradford, the Managing Editor, and by Joseph T. Lambie, the Business Manager.

At the end of the winter term, after a gala eight page final issue, the senior board retired and the 1930-31 board took charge. At the head of the new board are Lee Perot Howard, Editor-in-chief, Charles King Howard, business manager, and James P. Lardner, managing editor. If expectations are fulfilled the new board will be a good one, but they will have high standards to live up to.

FOR thirty-eight years, the Pot Pourri has faithfully and earnestly performed its extremely important task of serving as the one perpetual link between school-days and the life that follows.

Originally named the Masque, the annual, after a year of rather disheartening failure, became known as the Pot Pourri and has ever since prospered under that name. Presenting, as it does, accounts of under-graduate activities and numerous lists and records, the book is naturally apt to become stereotyped in form and monotonous in style. This year's Board has willfully striven to eliminate, as far as possible, all that savors of repetition and to replace the old with newer, fresher material. The Managing Editor of the 1930 Pot Pourri is J. Burgess Book, III, with Gordon H. Hayes as Business Manager and William A. McCloy as Art Editor.

MIRROR BOARD

THIS year Mr. Blackmer reorganized The Mirror after a lapse of five years because of a general feeling of the student body for a school magazine. With nothing to work with, he got together a group of boys who were particularly interested in a school magazine and put out a very successful issue with plans for three more throughout the year.

The magazine is composed of various stories, poems, and plays by the students, and a humor section. The editorial board is picked from those whose articles are printed and those who seem most concerned with the welfare of the magazine; the business board is chosen from those who obtain the most advertisements.

Again the student body takes this opportunity to thank Mr. Blackmer and his assistants for their efforts and hopes the magazine will continue its success.

BLUE BOOK BOARD

THE Blue Book is the handbook of the student body and is given to all undergraduates at the beginning of the school year. It is revised each year by the editors, and its publication is financed by the business board which has charge of advertising, the proceeds of which are the only source of revenue. It has, since its inception in 1921, undergone comparatively few changes.

Football

The first call for candidates for the football squad brought out twelve of last year's letter men, six of whom were regulars. With these men as a foundation Coach Shepard with the assistance of Coaches Benton, Jacob, Dake, and Billhardt built up a strong but often unsteady team. A victory over Harvard and a strong stand against Yale brought out possibilities for an overhead game, which, however, was not carried out very successfully in the game with Exeter which was lost with a score of 14 to 7 after a close struggle.

The season was opened with a slow game against the Tufts Freshmen which was lost 18 to 0. The Andover team was too unorganized as yet to do much.

In the second game the Blue players did what had not been done for three previous years by defeating the Harvard Freshmen. Although the final score was only 7 to 0, Andover had the advantage throughout the fray and was at no time seriously threatened. Contrary to the first game the team was quite well organized and showed great promise.

Again the players shone when they met the Yale Freshmen at New Haven but could not hold the Freshmen after Wilson, King, and Keesling were taken out because of injuries, and the game closed 12 to 6 in Yale's favor.

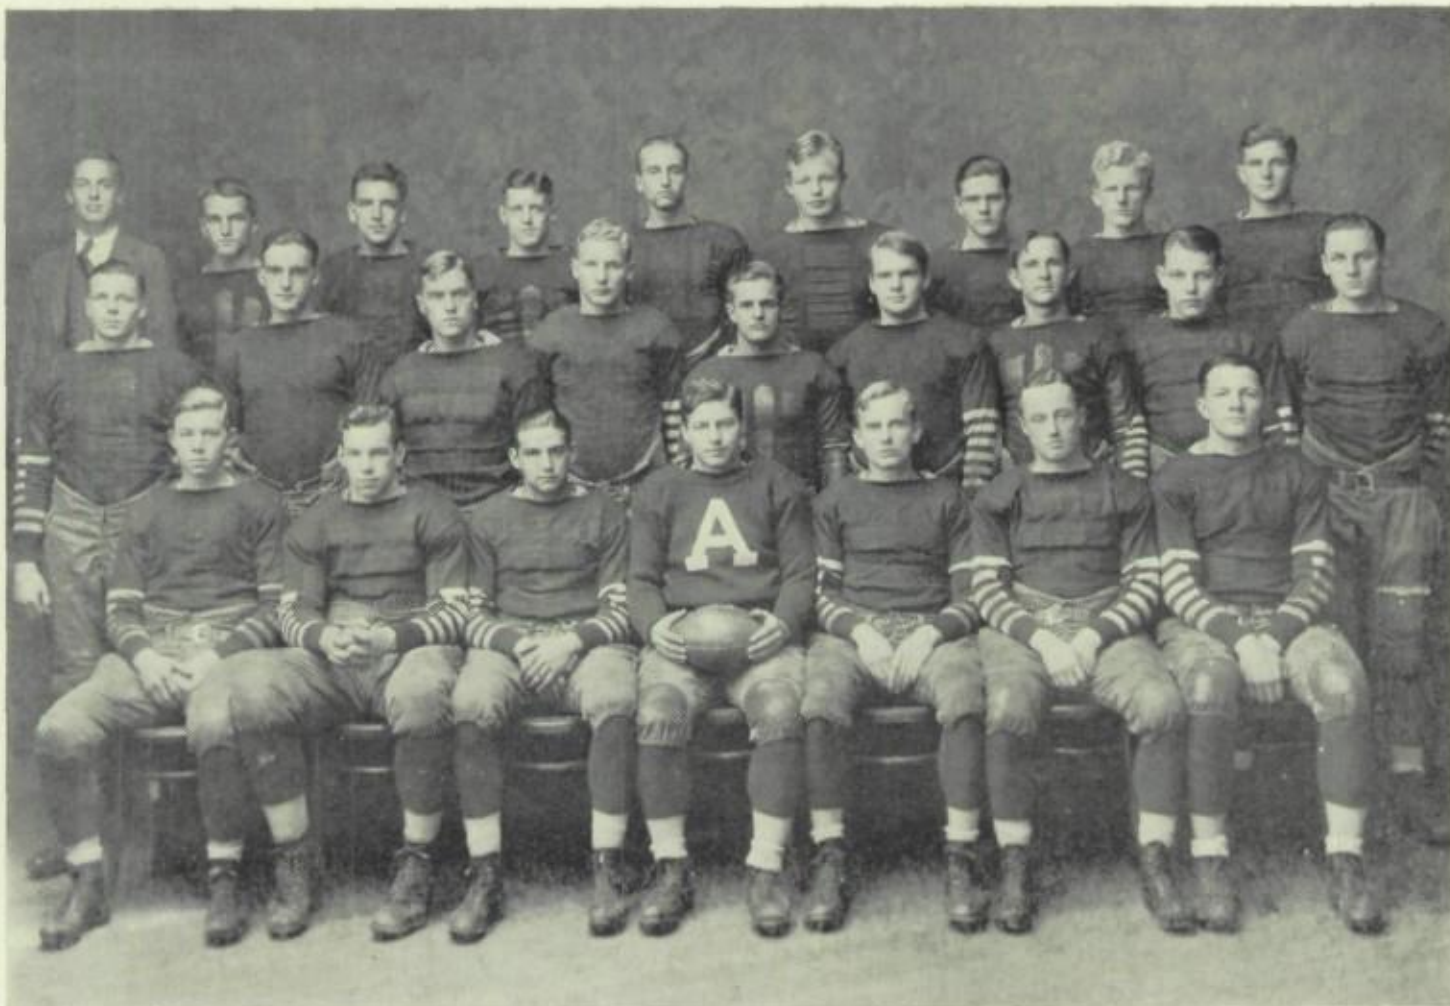

Dean met its usual defeat at Andover's hands when the team although a little too confident beat them with a score of 7 to 0. Broaca was the hero of the game when he ran ninety-nine yards for a touchdown.

Andover's strength which had been displayed in the Harvard game again came forth when the Blue overwhelmed Huntington by a run of 30 to 0.

On the Saturday before the Exeter game the New Hampshire Freshmen conquered a team composed chiefly of the Seconds and Gray Jerseys by a score of 14 to 0 in an uninteresting game.

The day of the Exeter game gave promise of being rainy but the sun broke through the clouds shortly before the team reached Exeter. After a few words from Mr. H. O. Gregg in dedicating the new Plimpton Field the game started. All the scoring was done in the first half which ended 14 to 7 in favor of Exeter. In the second half Potter blocked an attempted Exeter punt, scooped up the ball, and was apparently free for a touchdown, but the referee blew his whistle by mistake, and Potter was tackled. King and Wilson starred in the backfield and Captain Crane in the line.

ALL-CLUB FOOTBALL

Baseball

Four letter men and a number of all-club players returned to give Coach Vaughan a fair outlook for the 1929 baseball season. The first game of the season was on Wednesday, April 17th, with the Tufts Freshmen. The Blue got off to a fine season's start and overwhelmed the visitors, 15 to 0. On the following Wednesday the Blue nine met their first defeat at the hands of a strong Lawrence High team. The final score was 3 to 1.

On Saturday, the 27th, in an extremely close and exciting game the Wentworth Institute nine defeated the Blue, 7 to 5. The Andover nine again met defeat the next Wednesday at the hands of St. John's Prep. The final score was 7 to 2.

On Saturday, May 4, the Blue nine journeyed to New Haven to meet the Yale Freshmen. Broaca pitched a superb game but was poorly supported. In the fourth inning the yearlings crossed the home-plate six times and the net outcome was 9 to 3. On the following Wednesday the Harvard Seconds sent the Blue down to another defeat. Brown pitched well, but unfortunately allowed three runs to come in during the first inning. Superior batting by the Crimson won the game for them, 7 to 4.

The Andover nine staged a remarkable come-back in the next game by defeating Cushing Academy, 10 to 3. Broaca pitched an exceptionally fine game, striking out seven men and allowing no bases on balls. On the following Wednesday, however, the Harvard Freshmen defeated the Blue nine, 10 to 2.

With a radically changed lineup the Andover nine defeated Dartmouth '32 on May 18th. Broaca struck out a total of ten men. The final score was 4 to 0.

In the first errorless game of the season, Andover sent Huntington to defeat on the following Wednesday. Brown pitched for the first eight innings and was relieved by Broaca in the ninth. The Blue netted thirteen hits and six bases on balls to win, 16 to 4.

On May 25th Andover was defeated by the Dean nine. The Blue seemed to have the edge; but the Dean team started scoring consistently after the fourth, to make the final score 12 to 8.

A week later the Blue team met a strong New Hampshire Freshman nine, and though they played a steady game Andover came out on the small end of a 12 to 5 score.

On June 8th Andover met defeat at the hands of a superior Exeter team for the third consecutive time. Coombs of Exeter was the outstanding player of the game. His excellent pitching and hitting were the high spots of the contest. Broaca twirled a superb game but received poor support. The final score was 12 to 2.

The following men received letters: Captain Kimball, Manager McGauley, Mettler, King, Batchelder, Losee, Jackson, Allen, A. Y. Rogers, Broaca, A. M. Rogers, Cooper, Bassett, and C. P. Williamson.

Track

With McDougall, Jackson, French, Osborne, Page and Houston as 1928 letter men, Coaches Shepard and Shields produced one of Andover's best track teams for the 1929 season.

Andover lost its first meet on April 20th to Harvard '32 with the very close score of 64 1-3 to 61 2-3. Andover showed itself to be exceptionally strong in the field events. The Blue made a clean sweep in the Hammer Throw, Shot-Put and Discus while Moore took first in the Broad Jump and tied for first in the High Jump. On the following Saturday the Blue defeated M. I. T. '32, 89 to 28. Andover took first in all the field events but was outclassed on the track.

On May 4, the Andover team journeyed to New Haven to meet the Yale Freshmen. The Yearlings, with an exceptionally strong team, defeated the Blue by a score of 72 1-2 to 23 1-2. A strong wind slowed up the times of the track events but Andover made a fine showing in the field events, making a clean sweep in the Hammer and Javelin. Moore again placed first in the High and Broad Jumps.

At Cambridge, on the following Saturday, Andover won the Harvard Inter-scholastics for the ninth consecutive time, tallying a total of 57 7-12 points. Moore was the only man in the meet to take first place in two events which he did by winning the High and Broad Jumps. Five Andover men placed in the Pole Vault.

Despite the loss of French, Moore and Woodward, Andover defeated the Dartmouth Freshmen on May 18. The Blue made a clean sweep in the Hammer and Pole Vault. The final score was 71 to 55.

In the year's closest meet Andover lost to Worcester Academy on the following Saturday. Moore returned to secure first in the High Jump. The outcome of the meet rested on the Discus event, which unfortunately was taken by Worcester, to win 65 to 61.

On June 1, the Andover team won over Exeter by a score of 77 to 49. The Blue placed first in the Hammer, Pole Vault and Discus, making a clean sweep in the two latter even's. The outstanding event of the day was the Pole Vault in which Pickett and Pierce both cleared the bar at 11 feet 10 inches, breaking the dual meet and school records.

The following men received their letters: Captain Houston, Manager Caldwell, Captain-elect Jackson, B. Osborne, E. King, Pew, Newfield, French, R. Page, Chase, Duchesne, Chickering, C. W. POLO TEAM

POLO, which has heretofore attracted little attention at Andover, this year became a fully recognized minor sport.

When a call was sent out in the fall, over sixteen men reported to Coach Lyle Phillips. This proved to be enough material for four club teams, and play was soon started. A varsity team was finally picked, and N. T. Clark '30 was elected captain.

On October 2nd the team journeyed to Danvers to play the Danvers Riding Club team. In a hard fought match Andover was defeated, 8 to 5.

On October 16th Danvers sent a team to Andover to be defeated at the hands of a Blue team which showed considerable experience had been gained in the previous match. H. C. Royal '31, a new man on the team, proved to be a great asset. The final score was 5 to 3.

Andover convincingly defeated Harvard '33 on the following Saturday by a 10 to 5 score. This was the first game into which Andover sent a four man team and the showing was most creditable.

During the Spring Vacation the Blue team played in an indoor tournament at New York. But they were eliminated in the first round by a very superior Lawrenceville team, which later won the tournament.

Great credit is due to Coach Phillips for his splendid work with the squad. Through his untiring efforts Andover now has one of the best prep school teams in the east.

The sport has now been officially recognized and is certainly destined to become one of the most popular sports on the hill in years to come.

Hockey

Again this year the hockey team was put at a disadvantage by having a new coach. However, Coach Eaton succeeded in bringing the team through a successful season, meeting with but two defeats, one of which was at the hands of Exeter. Five of last year's letter men returned, four of whom were regulars.

The team won the first game of the year from the M. I. T. Freshmen, two to nothing. The game was featured by Andover's fighting spirit, splendid pass-work, and individual drives down the ice. Captain Neill was injured in second period, but Sumner effectively held his post for the rest of the game. Coach Eaton's skill was recognized by his organizing a team in so short a time.

After the game with the New Hampshire Freshmen had been called off because of poor ice, as was also the one with Melrose, Andover went through Cushing for a 5-1 run in the second period. Although the ice was soft, plenty of excitement was afforded by Rugg's spirit, Fawcett's runs, and Tolman's heady game. They made one, three, and one goals respectively.

Newton High with a good previous record found a rough opponent in Andover and lost by a score of 1-0, the winning goal being scored in the last minute of play by Bryant on a pass. The hard ice permitted flashy skating and led to rather hearty checking in the last period. In contrast with the previous game the 3 to 1 victory over Belmont Hill was quite slow and uninteresting. The game was marked by our weak defensive playing which caused Neill to do more than his share at goal.

Again the team played a game with the ice and weather perfect, this time with Arlington whom they conquered 1-0. Fawcett made the winning goal in the first period, and the rest of the game was a display of both teams' fighting spirit with the Arlington team determined to at least tie the score. The last preliminary game was with the Harvard Freshmen, who with their great speed and weight wore out the Andover team to win 5-0.

On the morning of the Exeter game both teams with fine records had high hopes, although neither was very sure of victory. In the first part of the second period Exeter succeeded in making her first goal, but the Andover team held on although tiring fast because of a lack of substitutes. Time and again Lane and Spain, the powerful Exeter forwards, were checked in their mad rushes down the ice. In the last five minutes of play the Exeter forwards broke through an exhausted team, making four goals. Captain Neill was Andover's most outstanding player, stopping some fifty-three shots at his position in the cage.

Letters were awarded to the following: Captain Neill, Manager Bradford, Bryant, Rolfe, Fawcett, Rugg, Gardner, Wolcott, Tolman, Ogden, and Wheeler.

Swimming

Seven of last year's letter men returned to form a nucleus upon which Coach Dake built a powerful and rather steady team. With Captain Fry, King, and Wilson in the sprints, Breed in the backstroke, Savell in the breaststroke, and McCloy in the dive, Mr. Dake rightfully had high hopes for a successful preliminary season topped by an Exeter victory, which, owing to several upsets, did not materialize.

Yale sent one of the strongest Freshman teams she has produced for many years for the first meet of the season. Although we lost 37 to 25, the Freshmen had to break four records to win. A previous Andover star, Anderson, swimming for Yale, broke his own and the pool record in the backstroke, and records in the relay, 100-yard freestyle, and the 200-yard freestyle were also made by Yale men. The low times turned in by the Andover men proved their ability in the face of strong opposition.

On the following Saturday the Blue swimmers swamped the Dean Academy team 54 to 8, winning all the possible places except one second place. However, the victory was not so noteworthy as it seemed, for the Dean team had offered but little resistance in either of its past two meets. Although the Blue team won 34 to 28 over the Boston Boys' Club in the next meet, it did not do as well as it ought to have done.

Andover won its third consecutive victory by conquering Brookline 46 to 16 and set two new records. The relay team composed of King, Young, Wilson, and Kahanamoku lowered the mark set in 1925, and Kahanamoku set a record in the 100-yard freestyle.

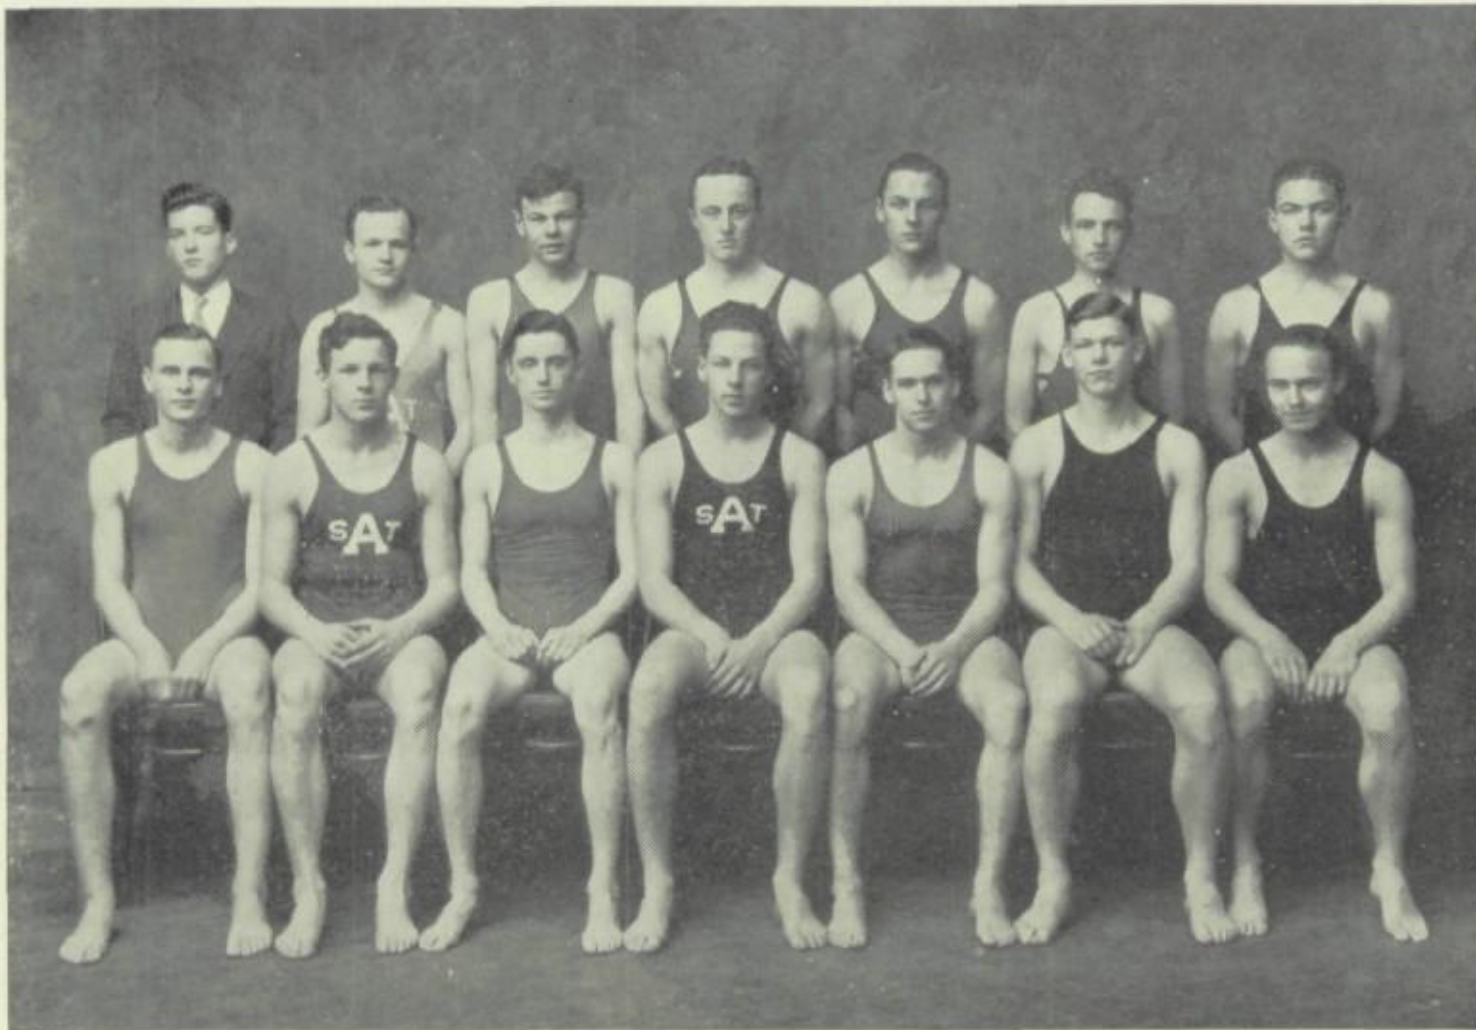

The Dartmouth Freshmen were responsible for Andover's second defeat, the score being 39 to 23. However, this defeat was obscured by a victory, 39 to 27, over Huntington with all the Andover swimmers back in form.

The meet with Worcester Academy closed the preliminary season with a defeat for Andover, 32 to 30. Since the season records of both teams were as closely matched as only Andover-Exeter teams can be, it was hard to prophesy a victory in either case although the Andover times seemed to be slightly lower than the Exeter times. The loss of Wilson and Kahanamoku proved to be a great handicap for the relay team.

A hopeful and determined team travelled to Exeter for the final battle of the season. The first surprise was received when King lost the 50-yard dash. When Breed and Savell, winning first places in the backstroke and breaststroke respectively, were disqualified for illegal turns, all chances for victory were lost, and the Exeter men ran up 41 points, leaving 25 for Andover.

The following men received letters: Captain G. B. Fry, Manager J. H. Page, J. A. Bryant, Jr., J. Young, N. V. King, W. A. McCloy, H. P. Buckingham, E. V. King, C. J. Pickett, E. L. French, C. N. Breed, Jr., J. C. Willey, W. L. Savell, Jr., S. L. Paine.

Soccer

Early this fall, Coach Ryley had on his hands fifty soccer candidates. Of these, six had their letters and seven received their numerals for staying on last year's squad. Backed by Captain Fawcett, Coach Ryley drilled his raw material and soon announced that he expected a successful season.

The first game of the season was scheduled for October fifth with Tabor Academy. After a hard fought battle, Andover came out on top with a 4 to 1 victory, Captain Fawcett scoring two goals and Butler the other two.

Next, Yale Freshmen bowed to Andover on October 19 to the tune of 3 to 2. The game was interesting in all points, and especially because of three men of the Yale team who were former Andover stars. Neff opened the scoring for Andover and Fawcett added the other two goals.

Then, on October 23, Andover added the fighting Dean team to the Hall of Victims, helped by Greenway, who scored the only goal for Andover by a perfect corner kick. The game was full of cool, level-headed playing and long kicks.

On October 26, Andover journeyed to Worcester and there met its first and only defeat of the season. Although mercilessly driven to a 4 to 0 defeat, the Andover men displayed their spirit by fighting to the last.

On November 3, our booters avenged themselves by a 4 to 0 humbling of the M. I. T. Freshmen. A changed lineup factored in this victory. Fry began the scoring, followed by two goals by Dorman. After a dribble, Gordon made the last score.

Andover played its first letter game with Exeter on November 6. Andover repeated last year's performance by beating her old time rival 1 to 0. The game was hard fought throughout, with Andover having a slight advantage. Several attempts were made against Exeter's goal, but it was not until the last two minutes of play that Dorman of Andover headed the ball in after a penalty kick from the corner by Fawcett.

So closed the brilliant soccer season, the team having five victories out of a possible six and Exeter beaten in the bargain.

Wrestling

Although he was handicapped by the fact that excepting Captain Eiseman and Walden there were no returning lettermen, Coach Carlson turned out a strong team by developing new men and some from last year's club teams. Only two matches were lost, and both of these were only by the margin of a single point.

The Blue opened its season on January 18 against a strong aggregation of the M. I. T. Freshmen, losing 14 to 13. The next week the Tufts Freshmen were opposed. A fall in the last match of the day brought the team victory by a 16 to 11 score.

The first trip to the Taft school in the history of the sport was made on February 1, when the home team was beaten in an exciting meet by a score of 16 to 11. Milton Academy was next defeated in a contest which had many thrilling moments, the score being 23 to 10.

Two easy meets followed. In the first, against Brown and Nichols, Andover scored all possible points, winning 35 to 0. The second team of the Harvard Freshmen was beaten almost as badly, the Blue taking six falls and one decision to win 33 to 0.

The last two meets of the season were undoubtedly the hardest. The Yale Freshmen, with a team including McGauley and Rowland of last year's team, were beaten 15 to 14, but only after a struggle which was decided by Andover's victories in the lighter classes. On March 1, the Blue closed its season by losing to a heavier and more experienced opponent, the Harvard Freshmen. The meet was not decided until the Harvard man gained a fall in the last bout to make the score 14 to 13 in favor of the visitors.

Basketball

With Kellogg and Drick, two of last year's letter men, returning, Coach Blackmer formed a fairly successful Andover basketball team. Manager Welch arranged a difficult but interesting schedule with which the Blue quintet made an exceptionally good showing.

On January eighteenth the Lowell High team played in one of the season's most exciting games and won in the last few minutes of play, 29 to 28. On the following Wednesday Andover lost to Huntington, 24 to 30. However, Dean was easily overcome in the next tilt 34 to 26. The Blue team was beaten by the Tufts Freshmen, 30 to 26, but rallied in the next game to defeat Northwestern 26 to 22. St. John's was defeated on February 8th, 27 to 25, but Harvard '33 took the following game 31 to 26. In the next two games Andover easily defeated Tabor, 28 to 22, but lost to Wentworth, 25 to 26. The Blue quintet defeated Haverhill High, 24 to 20. In the game at Providence the Andover basketekers met defeat at the hands of a slightly superior Brown Freshman team, 27 to 29. The Exeter game proved to be the season's most exciting contest. Andover started the scoring but Exeter soon overcame the lead and held it until the last quarter when the score was tied. The Blue quintet started a desperate rally but the Red and Grey, though often hard pressed, continued to score and at the final gun the score stood 25 to 22 in their favor.

The men to receive letters were: Captain Kellogg, Manager Welch, Drick, Neff, Mayer, R. Brown, Douglas, K. Howard, and J. Kettle.

Tennis

Despite the death of the regular coach, Mr. Murray, just before the beginning of the season, and the fact that there were only two returning letter men, Captain Paine and Evans, Andover had an unusually successful tennis season. Not only did the Blue team win four out of its six preliminary matches but completed the season by the practically unprecedented record of taking first place in the Harvard interscholastics and defeating Exeter. The credit for this showing is due not so much to individual starrng as to the high average maintained by the team as a whole. The fine coaching of Mr. Blackmer helped a lot towards such a successful season.

Andover opened the season by an overwhelming victory over Boston Latin. When the meet was called on account of rain they had won three of the matches and were leading in the other two. The lineup in this meet was Paine, Smith, Loftus, Evans, and Neff. In the next meet, that against Malden High School, there were six single and three double matches, all of which Andover won. Yale freshmen crushed Andover in the next meet, winning every match. In the lineup Neff was substituted for Loftus.

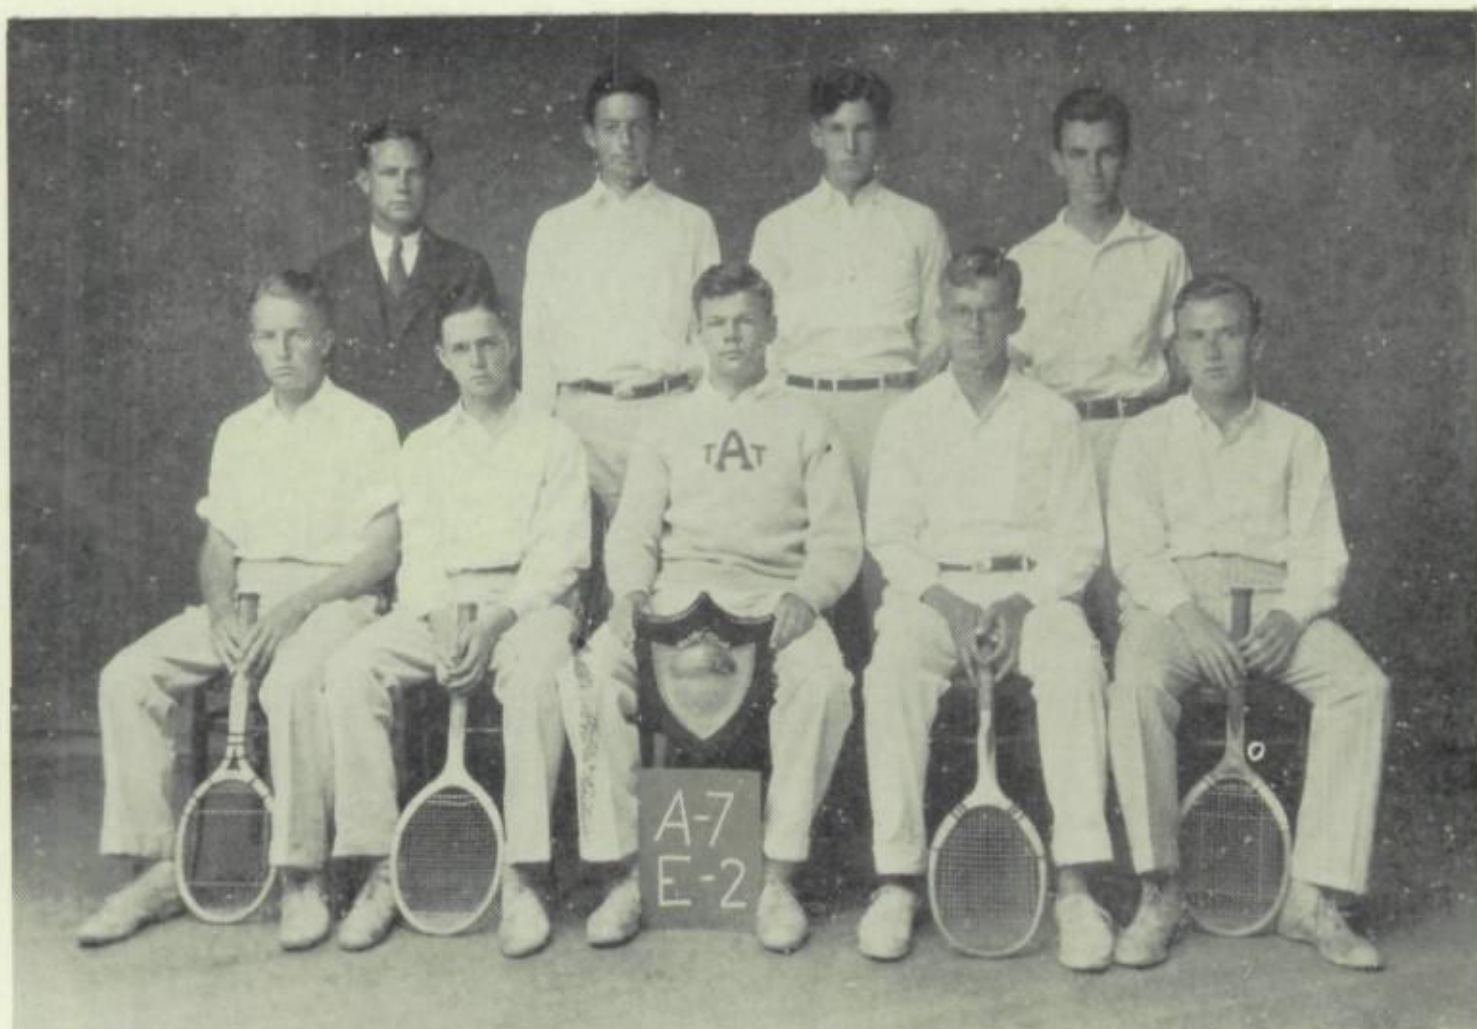

The second defeat of the season followed the next week. The Harvard varsity second team smothered the Blue who won only one match, a doubles contest, in which Roorbach and Neff triumphed. But prospects brightened when Andover beat the M. I. T. Freshmen by a score of six to three. Pond, who afterwards ranked first, became eligible just before this contest in which he won his match. But in the meet against Newton High his high ranking put him up against the number one man and he was defeated both in the singles and with Neff in the doubles. These were the only defeats for Andover. In the last preliminary meet the Blue team nosed out a five to four victory over the Dartmouth Freshmen.

The Interscholastics were a triumph for Andover who won them as a school although they had neither finalists. Smith was defeated in the first round but the other five Andover men won their matches. Paine and Neff had the hard luck to go up against the two ultimate finalists, Shields and Noble, in the third round and were both eliminated. In the semi-finals Pond and Evans were defeated by the same men.

Andover ended the season in a blaze of triumph by defeating Exeter 7 to 2. The ranking in this meet was Pond, Neff, McWilliams, Paine, Evans, and Benner. Neff and Benner lost their matches. The three doubles teams, Pond and Neff, Paine and McWilliams, and Loftus and Buek, all came out victorious. The following were awarded letters:

FENCING TEAM

WHEN the Fencing squad turned out late last fall, Coach Barss found he had some material which, although it was inexperienced, might be formed into a fair team. His results are evident in the highly successful season. He had one letter man, Captain Murray, one of last year's squad, Greenway, two numeral club fencers, Muller and Tompkins, and Allis and Stern, dark horses.

The first meet of the year was won from Lynn General Electric, with the close score of 5 to 4. Then English High succumbed to Andover's foilsmen with a score of 7 to 2. Likewise Providence High offered little resistance, being overwhelmed 6 to 3. Dennison House, in an evening meet, almost broke Andover's winning streak, but Greenway scored the deciding touch, giving the meet to Andover, 4 to 5. M. I. T. Freshmen were the next victims, and were defeated 8 to 1. The team then journeyed to Wallingford and there suffered a 3 to 6 defeat at the hands of Choate, breaking a winning streak. On the following Wednesday the team went to Cambridge to fence Harvard Freshmen, and were defeated 7 to 2, Allis winning the only two bouts for Andover.

Throughout the season, Greenway's consistent fencing was the outstanding feature of the team. Captain Murray's brilliant fencing kept his number two position, while Allis, Muller, and Tompkins alternated on the number three position. W. G. Butler served efficiently as manager during the season.

CONTRARY to the custom of the past few years the members of the Radio Club under the leadership of C. J. McLanahan this year limited their activities mainly to the handling of messages in the United States and did not do much in connection with foreign countries. A great deal of time was given up to instructing those who were interested in obtaining an amateur license. Classes for teaching the International Code were held daily and classes along other lines on Saturdays. Each member also had a certain time to act as operator of the station to handle any messages he could pick up.

Up to the Christmas vacation the club used a seventy-five watt tube and met with a great deal of success. After the vacation they were given a five thousand watt, water-cooled tube which supplies a much greater amount of power than most amateur stations use. Future experiments will probably be given up to getting as great efficiency out of the new tube as possible. This tube is of the type generally used in professional stations, and, consequently, many alterations will have to be made, chiefly in insulation.

The club is now open for membership to anybody in school except Juniors in order to give the older fellows an opportunity to make use of the club's limited facilities for instruction.

WITH OUR NEAREST AND DEAREST

It was midnight, the departing hour of the S. S. PFATTEICHER of the FRENCH Line. The BARSS had been put in place and passengers were bidding farewells over the SIDES of the ship. Suddenly there was a commotion on the pier; a large VAN, DER STUCKEN, was seen approaching and preparations were being made to get its contents on board. "Wuz STOTT?" cried Captain BEN-TON from the TOWER. "I want all the BOYCE LYNDE up on the DAKE." His order was carried out slowly because the BOYCE were EATON on the TROW-BRIDGE. However, ropes were let over the STEARNS and the precious cargo was stowed away in the fo' castle, the sailor's PARADISE. One passenger was heard to remark that the load seemed heavier than a STONE. The cry, "POYNTER out to sea", sounded forth and the hawsers were taken off the MOORE-HEAD. As the ship headed down the harbor a young man was seen to be in earnest conversation with two honeymooners. His voice lisped as he said, "Yeth, you and ROTH can have the LEITH on my apartment when you get back." "Well, maw," said an old farmer to his wife, "this is the life fer me. No more cows and BARNES ef I kin help it!" "O', BRIEN, You old KIDDER," a girl tittered, "FOR-BUSH—beating you take the prize." A PAGE was hurrying about the DAKE, disSPENCERing GRAHAM crackers. Every so often he would take a PECK at some of the amorous scenes in progress. Soon there was a rush for the PARMELEE of the ship and everyone took a last look at the vanishing lights of the NEW-TON while they held up their hands as SHIELDS against the spray of the BLACK-"MER". "I'm a FREEMAN now!" a PHILLIPS student was heard to say as he rushed for the BARSS and an "Extra Dry BANCROFT" cocktail.

Irate papa skunk (Disinheriting his wayward son): "Leave my home, son, I'll cut you off without a scent!"

* * * *

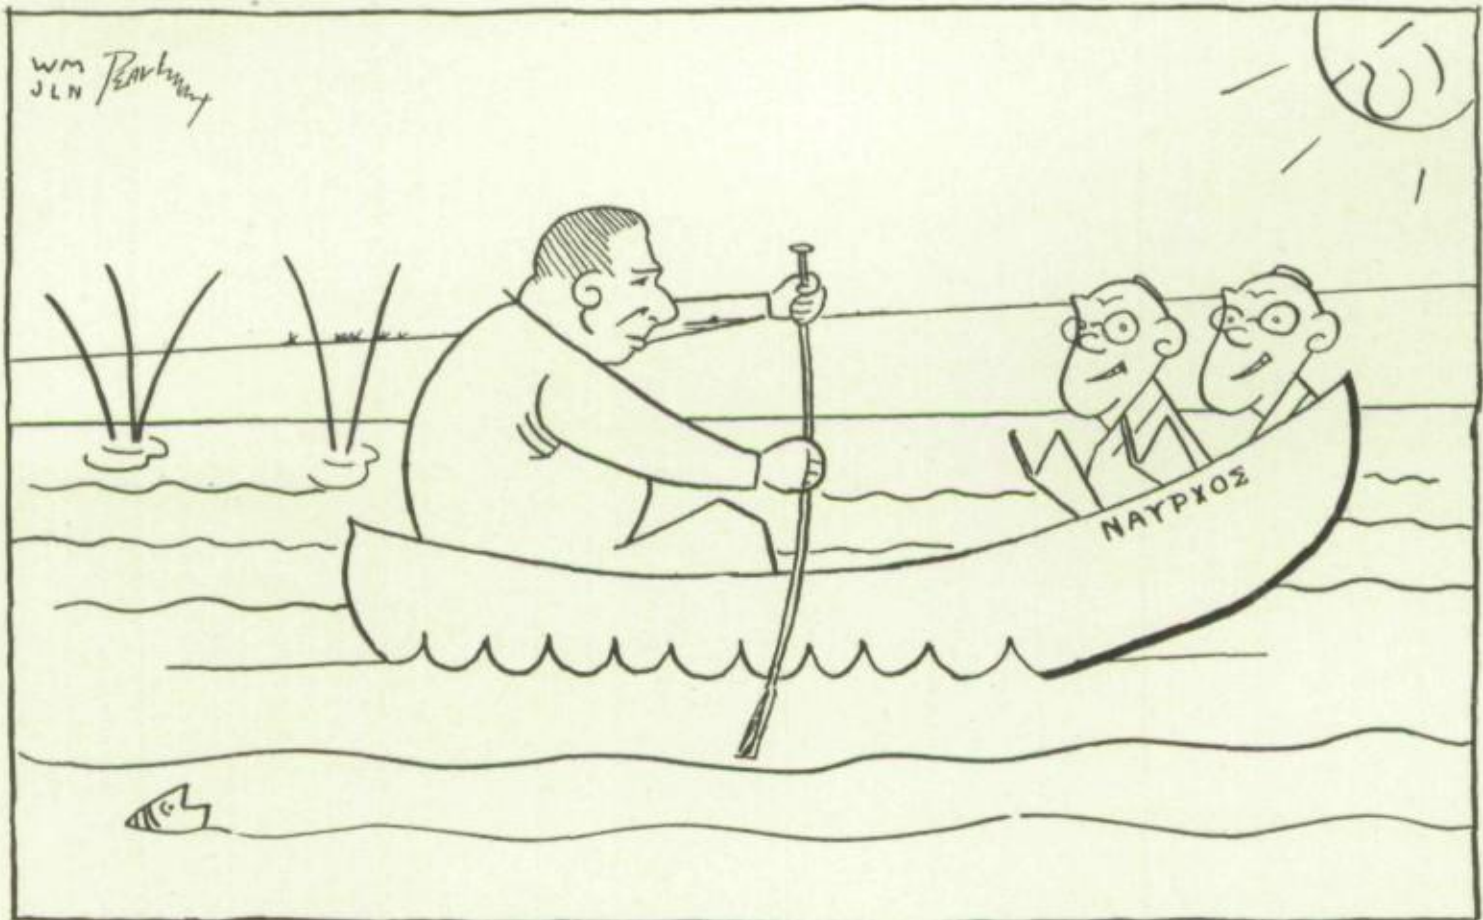

"Now we 'ex' you!" chorused the faculty at their after-rating meeting.

Weasel Keesling was a fighter,
A ferocious heavy smiter.
Then one day by chapel clapping,
An end was put to all his scrapping.

How it started no one knows,
Save in chapel Charley rose,
And read that Keesel, mighty Weasel,
Boxing lessons deigned propose.

All at once a mighty cheering
Broke out from the madly jeering
Pews of upper middle foes.
But brave Keesel stood up sneering,
Down the aisle marched never fearing,
Though his cheeks were red as rose.

Some long weeks the bird got Keesel,
Jeers and taunts got mighty Weasel.
Take the moral, never proffer
Boxing lessons for an offer.

SUMMER STUDIO,
OSTERVILLE, CAPE COD.

ABOUT all the photographic work in this book has been made by Mr. Huntress.

In return for the large amount of unprofitable work which he does by which the Pot Pourri board is saved a considerable sum, it would seem a fair exchange that he receive from the Senior Class, at least, all of its individual picture work.

However, as twenty-four represent all those who patronized other studios than this, perhaps it does not greatly matter, but if its from any real or imagined grievances he would like always to make it right.

Spreading the work to a greater extent over the year rather than the usual "rush and scramble", would result in a much improved conduct of the business.

The present Pot Pourri board has been very considerate and a "pleasant time was had by all"—while they promised and guaranteed nothing, the outcome and results more than prove that this studio is the proper and only place for this work.

My thanks and best wishes to you all—.

Lay the foundation now for a successful career

MANY a successful career has had its beginning in school or college. In addition to acquiring an education, the young man in school can lay a sound financial foundation for the work he will undertake later on.

One of the essentials in a business or professional career is a good banking connection. Such a connection made now and cultivated over a period of years will be a valuable asset at graduation.

The size of the account does not matter....for most successful accounts start with a small amount and gradually grow larger.
